

Weddings & Celebrations

Welcome to Cheval The Edinburgh Grand. We are delighted you are considering holding your event with us. Over the years we have been privileged to host a large number of ceremonies and celebrations in this historic building. Quite frankly it is one of the best parts of the job!

Setting the Scene

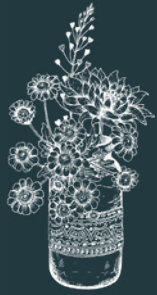

Formerly the headquarters of The Royal Bank of Scotland until its refurbishment in 2018, Cheval The Edinburgh Grand includes fifty luxuriously appointed apartments, a reception room on the fourth floor we call the Games Room, and an accompanying cocktail lounge and restaurant, The Register Club, also located on the fourth level.

The nature of the individual, quirky spaces at Cheval The Edinburgh Grand makes them ideal for intimate weddings and celebrations, and we can be flexible depending on your wishes and the number of guests.

You could host a private dinner in the Directors' Suite, or a drinks reception in the three-bedroom penthouse with its panoramic city views.

It's important to note that we are not a dedicated wedding venue with a pre-ordained bronze, silver and gold set of packages. This is by choice, and because we want to work with our guests to ensure that every event is unique and reflects their personality as well as our own.

Accommodation

When it comes to staying overnight, we can accommodate individuals, couples and families in our selection of studio, one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments. The extra space available in our apartments and fully equipped kitchens make both short and longer stays simple to arrange, and there is plenty of room for getting ready on the big day.

The Games Room

Located on the fourth floor, the Games Room is our dedicated events space.

This room can be tailored for a wedding ceremony, sit down meal or standing reception. The number of people that can comfortably be accommodated is indicated below.

The Penthouse

Boasting unrivalled views of the city, this three-bedroom apartment has a private terrace that can accommodate up to 60 for a standing reception. This is an ideal spot for hosting post-ceremony drinks and photos before returning to the Games Room for a sit-down meal.

The penthouse features a contemporary open plan kitchen/diner with comfortable seating set against an immense glass backdrop and giant wrap-around outdoor terrace.

The Directors' Suite

As befits a space that was once the luncheon room for the bank's Directors, this one-bedroom suite has a grand table in the middle of the suite seating up to 12. Also located on the same level as the Games Room, this apartment bursts with period features; original fireplaces and accent wood panelling add to the gentrified and romantic atmosphere. The cleverly designed room can be tailored either for a sit-down meal or a standing reception.

The Register Club

In a previous existence this space was the Royal Bank of Scotland's Committee Room, now transformed into a cosy and welcoming bar and lounge space. The Register Club is open to both residents and guests, and offers champagne, cocktails, a selection of lighter dishes and afternoon tea, seven days a week.

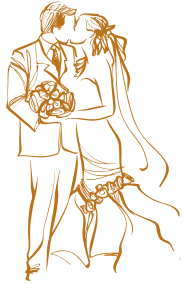

With its double height ceiling and elegant wood panelling, it's not hard to imagine yourself getting comfortable in one of the many booths that line the walls and planning that special occasion or event with friends and family. It is also possible to book areas of The Register Club for smaller gatherings.

Pricing

Every event held at Cheval The Edinburgh Grand is different, and as such we do not have set packages. Although your event can be as small as you like, prices start from £55 per person for a sit-down three-course meal, and for a minimum group size of 10.

If your booking includes accommodation, we can offer advantageous rates for the wedding party bookable using a specific code on our website.

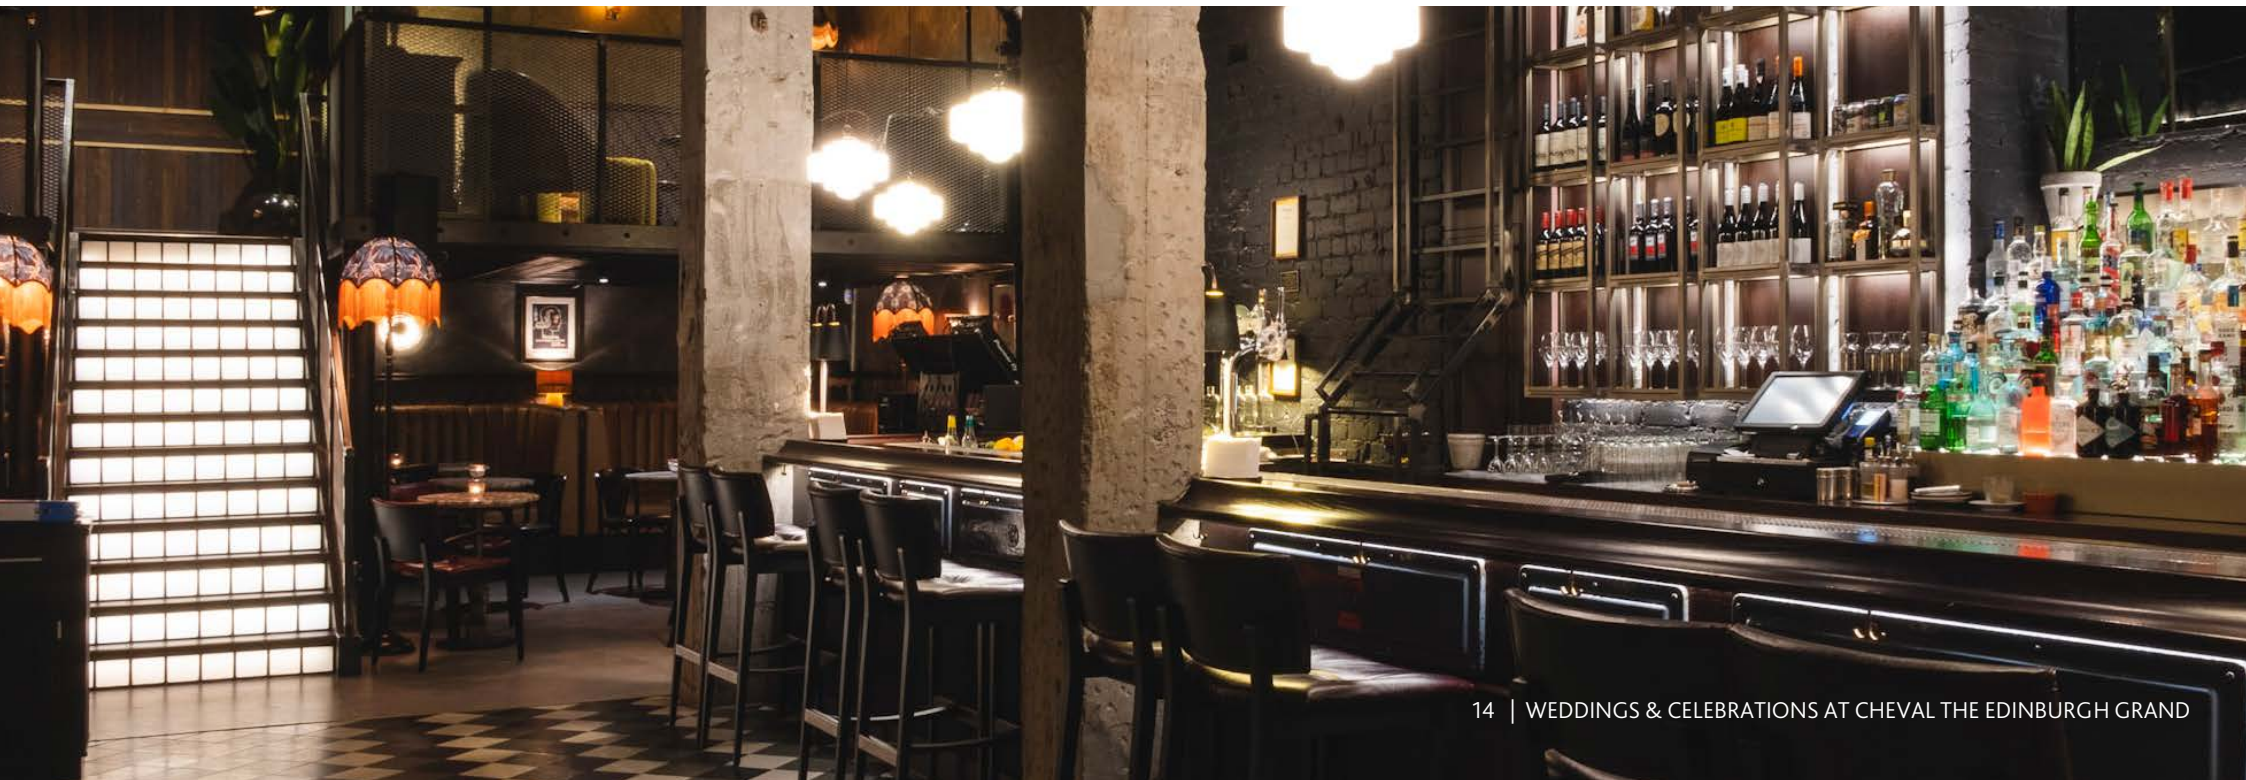

Partners

Located on the ground floor and basement level of Cheval The Edinburgh Grand are some further exciting spaces you should know about: fitness facility CaveFit, steak and seafood restaurant Hawksmoor, and Lady Libertine café, bar and restaurant.

As these venues are all operated independently of Cheval The Edinburgh Grand, we are unable to oversee any bookings you choose to make with them, however we are happy to put you in touch with the right people.

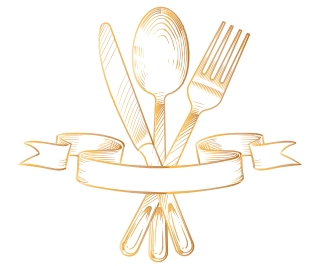

Hawksmoor

With a reputation for quality that preceded its arrival on Edinburgh's dining scene, Hawksmoor is well-known for its steak and seafood dishes served in suitably grand surroundings. Its menu includes seafood from the Scottish coast and top-quality cuts of steak from grass-fed cattle.

There are two private dining spaces in addition to the expansive main restaurant: The Tellers' Room seating up to 48, and the intimate McLellan Room welcoming up to 12 guests around a circular table.

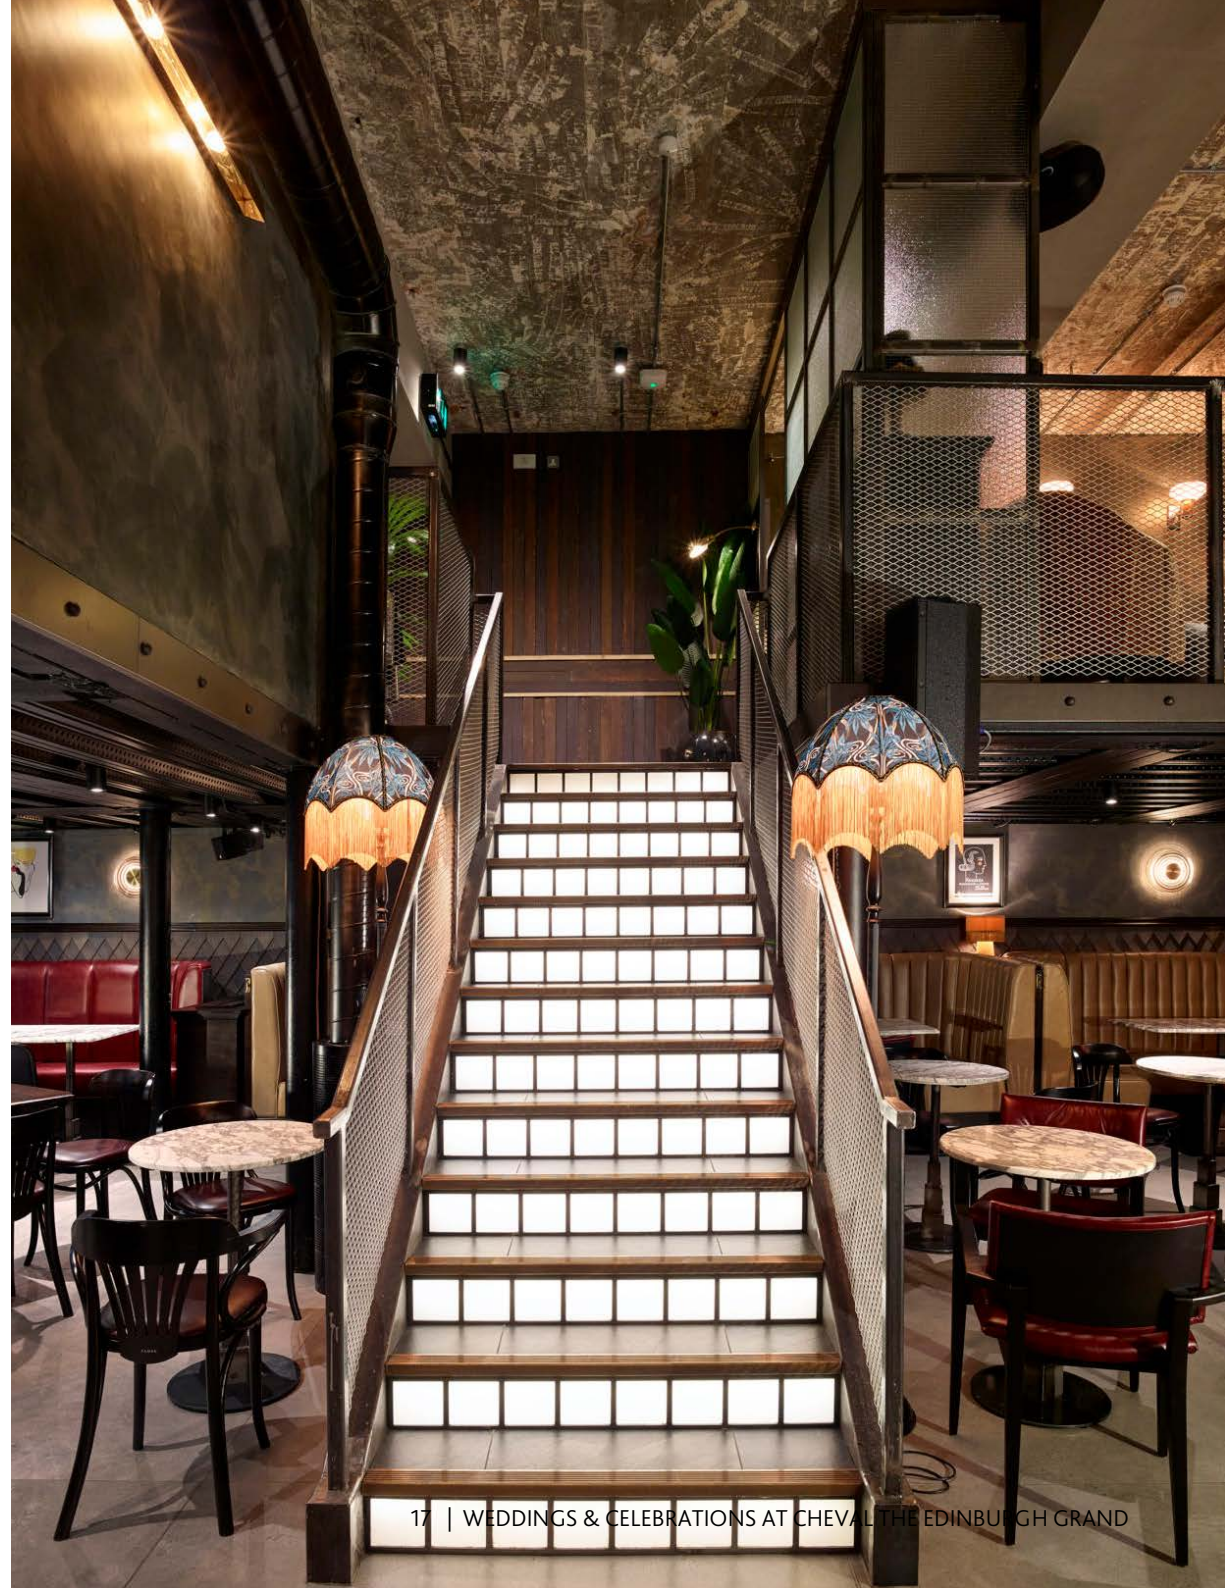

Hawksmoor

Lady Libertine

A transformative venue with literally something for everyone, this café, bar and restaurant effortlessly meets the definition for each of its distinctive offerings. By day, an airy ground floor café and wine bar serving everything from coffee and pastries to enticing lunches. By night, an energetic venue in what was formerly the bank's vaults, with DJ on hand, cocktails to order and a full-size food menu to keep its patrons dancing until 3am.

Honeymoon

When the day's excitement comes to a close, it's always nice to have something to look forward to. If you're staying with us at Cheval The Edinburgh Grand, there's nothing better than having the penthouse or Directors' Suite all to yourself once the crowd has departed. There is also a three-bedroom and a one-bedroom penthouse at our sister Residence Cheval Old Town Chambers in the city's Old Town, both with views across Princes Street Gardens.

Further down the Royal Mile, opposite the Palace of Holyroodhouse, stands our boutique nine apartment Residence, Cheval Abbey Strand Apartments at Holyrood. With more than 500 years of history contained within its thick stone walls, you and your partner can write the next chapter of this unique gem.

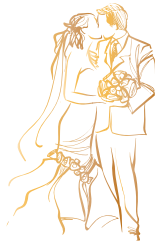

Honeymoon

If a change of scene is on the cards, Cheval has a further eight Residences in central London, each offering a fresh perspective on the UK's capital city. Book yourself into a top floor penthouse at Cheval Three Quays, with views over Tower Bridge and the Tower of London. Alternatively, a penthouse booking at Cheval Gloucester Park in Kensington could be paired with access to the 12-person private cinema on the ground floor.

Ask our team about the options available or visit www.chevalcollection.com for an online tour of all the different Residences.

Frequently Asked Questions

How many people can attend an event?

Cheval The Edinburgh Grand caters for smaller, intimate celebrations and weddings, and as such we welcome up to 50 guests.

Can I provisionally hold space?

Absolutely. We are happy to hold a date for up to seven days, after which we will contact you to either release or confirm your booking with a deposit.

Do I need to put down a deposit to secure my booking?

Once you've found a date that suits you and have decided to go ahead, we ask for a 20% deposit of the agreed fee.

What types of ceremonies are possible?

Whether it is secular or religious, your ceremony can be conducted according to your wishes. Depending on the size of the ceremony and the number of guests, this can be conducted in the Games Room, the Directors' Suite or in the Penthouse.

Who will be my point of contact?

We have an events coordinator who will be your primary point of contact when planning your event. They will be responsible for booking the space, organising any associated accommodation in the building and advising on what we as a venue can arrange.

Do you have a list of recommended suppliers such as caterers, florists, hairstylist and bakeries?

We do indeed and will be happy to give you some recommendations.

Do you accept outsider caterers?

The team at The Register Club has years of experience catering for groups both small and large. They can prepare everything from a traditional wedding breakfast meal to themed feasts for all types of occasions. We are happy to talk about any specific requests or requirements you have for your event.

Do you offer a package that includes accommodation?

Yes, we do. We can offer favourable accommodation rates on request.
